Once the resource has been deemed helpful and relevant, it is important to determine how you will introduce it to the course.

- Credibility: Is the resource from a credible source?
- Purpose: What is the purpose of sharing the resource? Consider if this is an anticipated need or a response to a course/student need.
- Reasonable: Is the reviewing time reasonable on top of the required module work?
- Medium: Is the medium used in the resource appropriate and clear for the content being addressed or clarified?

Summarize

What are some key takeaways?

Synthesize

How can this resource be applied to the course concepts from the module?

Support

Why would it be beneficial for students to take time to read/watch this?